Csci 100Q Online – Spring 2020

Csci 100Q is being offered online for the Spring 2020 semester. All the material that will be required to complete this course will be available on the C4 (https://c4.coquitlamcollege.com). You do not need to attend class. The course information on the C4 is available at any time. PowerPoint notes from the textbook publisher are provided. In addition, chapter lectures with instructor's comments will be available on the C4. The instructor's comments will further explain the chapter notes and emphasize important topics for the exams. Homework assignments will be posted to the C4 during the semester. You will have one week to complete each homework assignment. You will also be given several computer assignments. If you do not have the proper software to complete these assignments from home then you will have to use the software in the school's computer lab. The due date for each assignment will be specified. All assignments need to be handed in to the C4. Exams will take place in the school. Information about the exams will be posted ahead of time. For example, the date, time, room number, and topics for the midterm exam can be found on the C4 by clicking on Midterm Exam Details. You can email your instructor at any time for more information.
